OASIS 04 | 05

This past year, we have seen people and things come and go. The world is changing, and naturally, NNU has made changes of its own. The joy of the campus community here at NNU has been a refuge for many. In times of hardships and joys, we can celebrate another successful year passed. We can look back the joys and memories of Malibu Days, TWIRP, Valentine's Banquet, in classes, on the field, on the court, and many other areas in which we gathered together to make memories. These memories are ones that we hope to hold on to forever. All of these memories that have been built directly birthed friendships and affected relationships. The time of our lives has been said to be these years we reflect on in college. Cherish them.

As the incoming freshmen move in, various students help move them into their dorms and get settled in. This time can be stressful for some, but the hope is to lessen this strife, and make it a memorable experience.

Wellcome
Week

A grand tradition at NNU, during Malibu Days, is a time of karaoke, food, and fellowship. This event is better known as Malibu Luau. Students gather together to enjoy some Hawaiian influenced food and entertainment. The helpful freshman girls graciously volunteer themselves to help serve their peers, while others sing songs varying from "I Will Survive" to "Bye, Bye, Bye."

FRESHREE

The NNU Variety Show, better known as Fresheree, assumed the theme of "_____." Jeremy Hugus and Aaron Baldeseree (aka Baldy) hosted this fantastic night filled with acts such as depictions of "Robin Hood: Men in Tights" and the Power Team. The night was filled with laughter and excellent entertainment for the campus.

Fall Drama

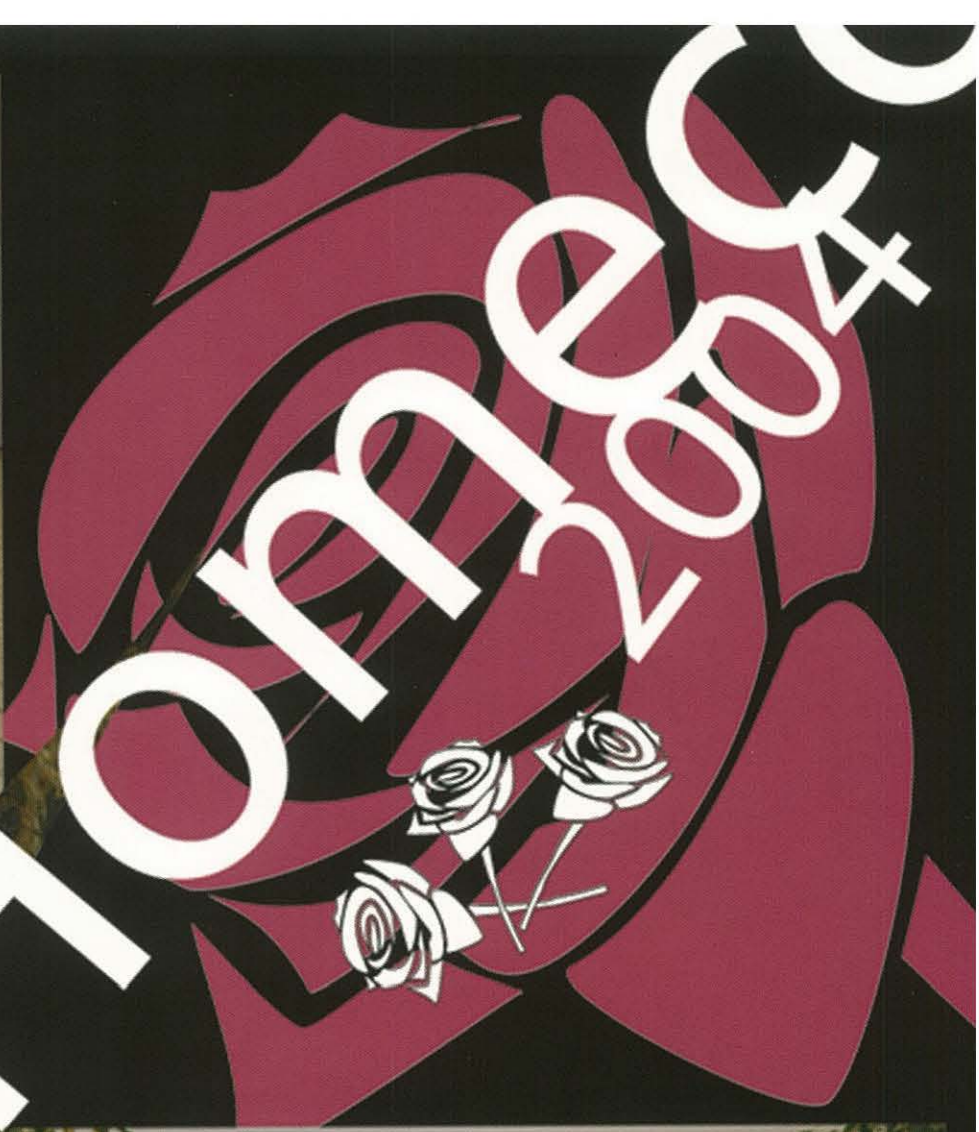

One of the spectacular events that add to the Homecoming festivities is known as the Fall Drama. This year, the department decided to take on the task of re-creating the entertaining show, "Anne of Green Gables." Megan Hill starred as Anne and was supported by a fantastic cast. This depiction brought in many viewers and continued the grand tradition of classic dramas NNU has come to love.

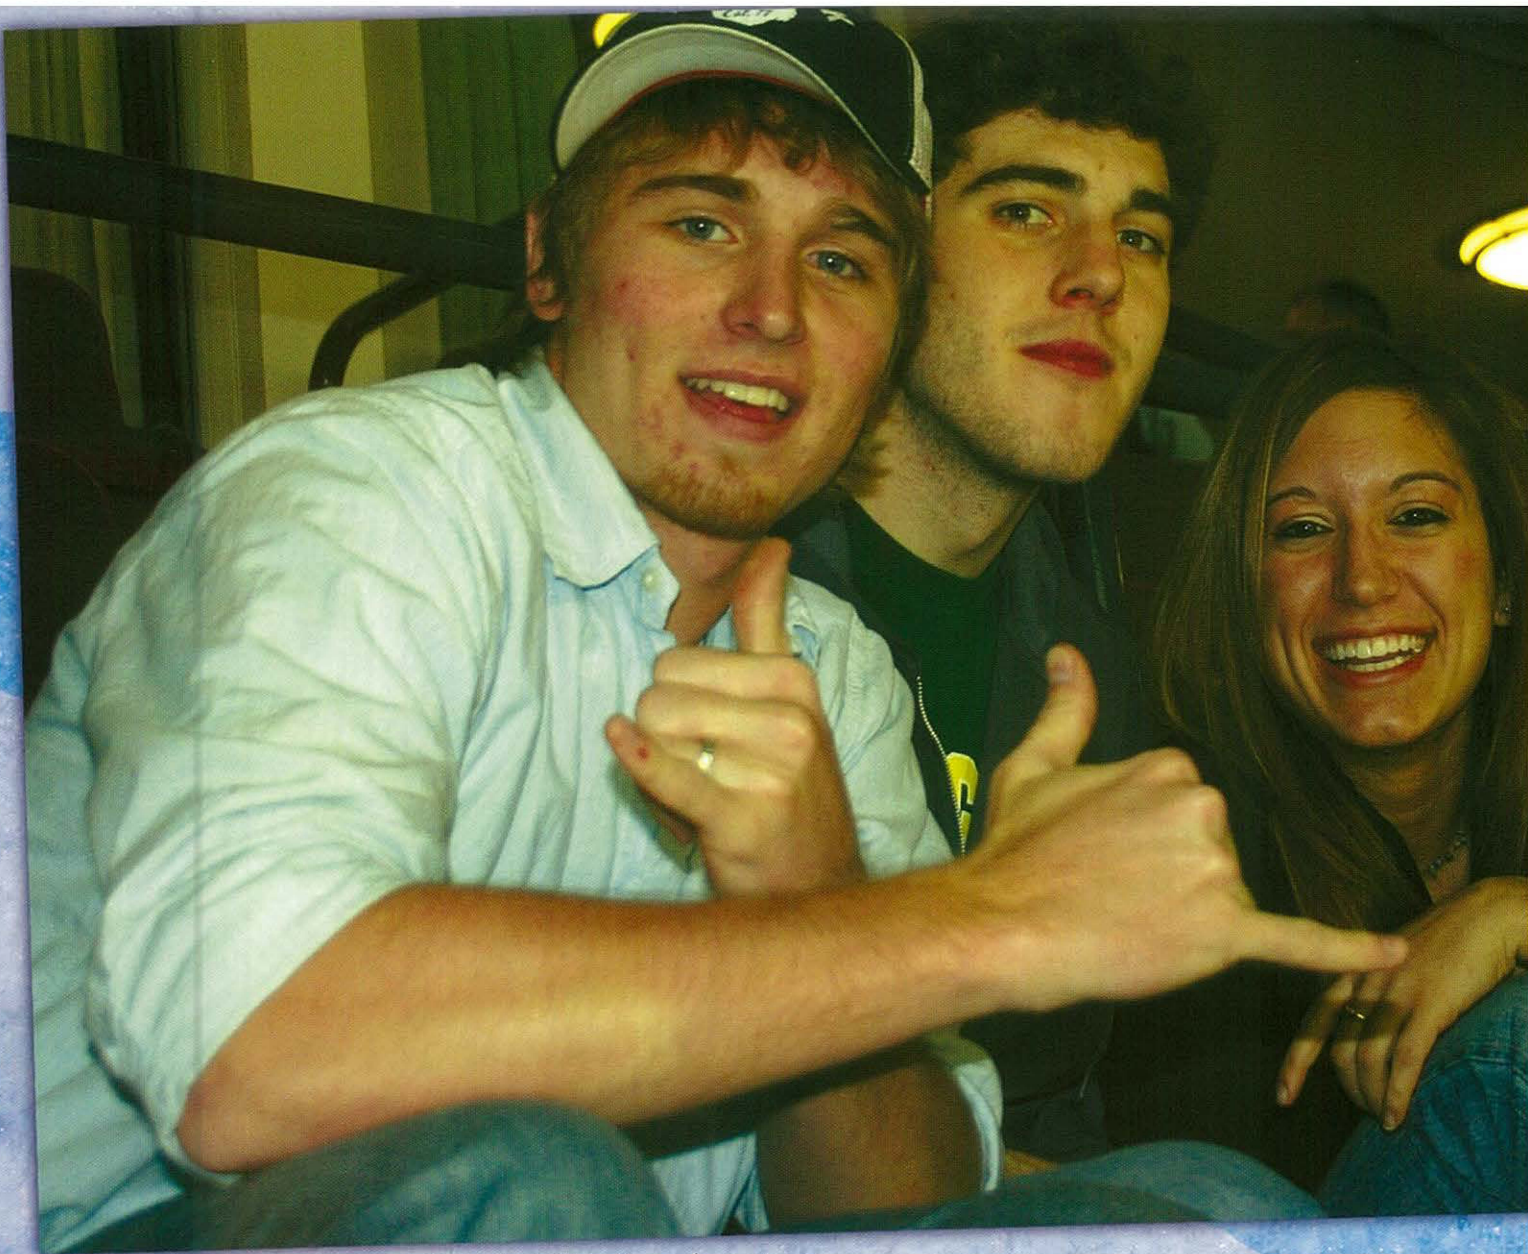

Homecoming is a grand, unique time where current students and alumni have the chance to gather together and take-in the festivities of Thanksgiving, musical and dramatic performances, and athletic events. Another chance for students to dress up and go out has become the tradition known as the Homecoming Banquet. This year, Social Vice President Kristen Brewer booked an improvisational drama group to come and entertain. The night was full of great food and amusement.

The Treasure Valley is lucky enough to house a great hockey team, the Steelheads. Out of support, NNU organizes a large group of students and faculty, and takes them to a game. This night is terribly refreshing...to get off campus, and do something with your peers that doesn't involve homework or studying.

Generally, Valentine's Day is a time strictly for those involved in some sort of romantic relationship. However, NNU provides a banquet for anyone that decides to come. This year, Kristen Brewer, SGA Social Vice President, hired an improvisational, comedic group to come perform

A chance to gather together for a night of laughter and entertainment is all wrapped up in one affair...Mr. NNU. This year, the guys all performed around the central theme of New York, New York. With dances, songs, and personal skits, the night was amusing for all. Junior, Marc Herring took home this coveted title, with Ric Shewell as the runner-up. We can all be excited to see what the NNU guys have up their sleeves for next year!

TAN AN—"Chopper down," crackled a voice over the headphones of the 9th Division's 1st Brigade command and control (C&C) chopper. At the same moment, all eyes turned toward the glowing fireball on the ground.

Twice the brigade commander's chopper circled the area as a gunship team of 3d Squadron, 5th Cavalry Huey Cobras and LOH "Warwagons" sped to the scene. Colonel Ira A. Hunt Jr., 1st Brigade commander, watched the action below with barked again and the Warwagon pulled up sharply. The watchful Cobras zeroed in on their target.

As the C&C ship began another pass, Hunt's voice came clearly over the intercom: "Take us down there. I want to see what's going on." The pilot responded immediately, dropping the chopper into an open rice paddy.

Within minutes, Hunt was with the infantrymen of Company C. Seconds later an explosion occurred in the flaming chopper. Then a secondary explosion, apparently caused by the downed chopper's rockets, catapulted a BINH PHUOC—The 9th Division's 2d Mechanized Battalion, 47th Infantry, has moved into its new home here, being the last unit to leave the former Division headquarters at Bearcat.

Although the 2d/47th has worked in the Delta region before, the move presents a somewhat new concept in operations. While stationed at Bearcat, the unit worked the jungles and surrounding rubber tree plantations, but in the early summer, received Delta experience near Tan An.

A fond tradition, that has taken place at NNU for many years, is the grand productions of our spring musicals. This year, "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown" took the stage with new lighting and fantastic set designs. With sold-out crowds, great directing, and amazing music, Charlie Brown was a sure-fire hit!

Blood Drive

Year after year, NNU hosts a few blood drives to help aid the local chapter of the Red Cross. Students and faculty alike join to contribute to this cause. Leadership and management of the event is contained by various students and classes.

Eggstravaganza is a creative way to say, "College-students hunting for Easter eggs, but they don't want to call it an egg hunt." Prizes varying from DVD players, gift certificates, and candy are bestowed upon all of those that participate. Across the soccer field, Finkbeiner Park, and next to Elijah Drain, students rummage for these prize-filled eggs.

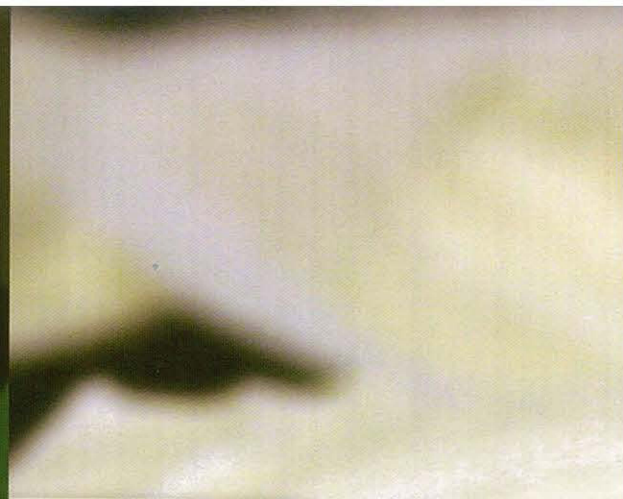

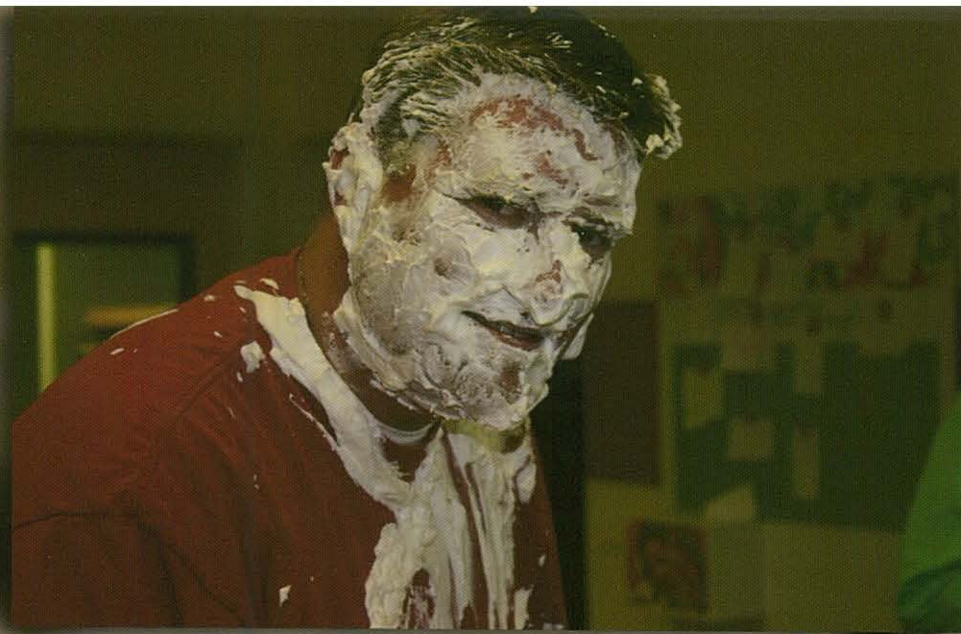

JR CLASS PLAY

The Jr. Class Play is a time in which NNU gets to join together in the spring for another dramatic series of short plays. This has traditionally been directed by a student director involved in drama on campus. The Student actors, directors, stage hands, etc. have all been involved greatly throughout the process of presenting this production to the community and campus.

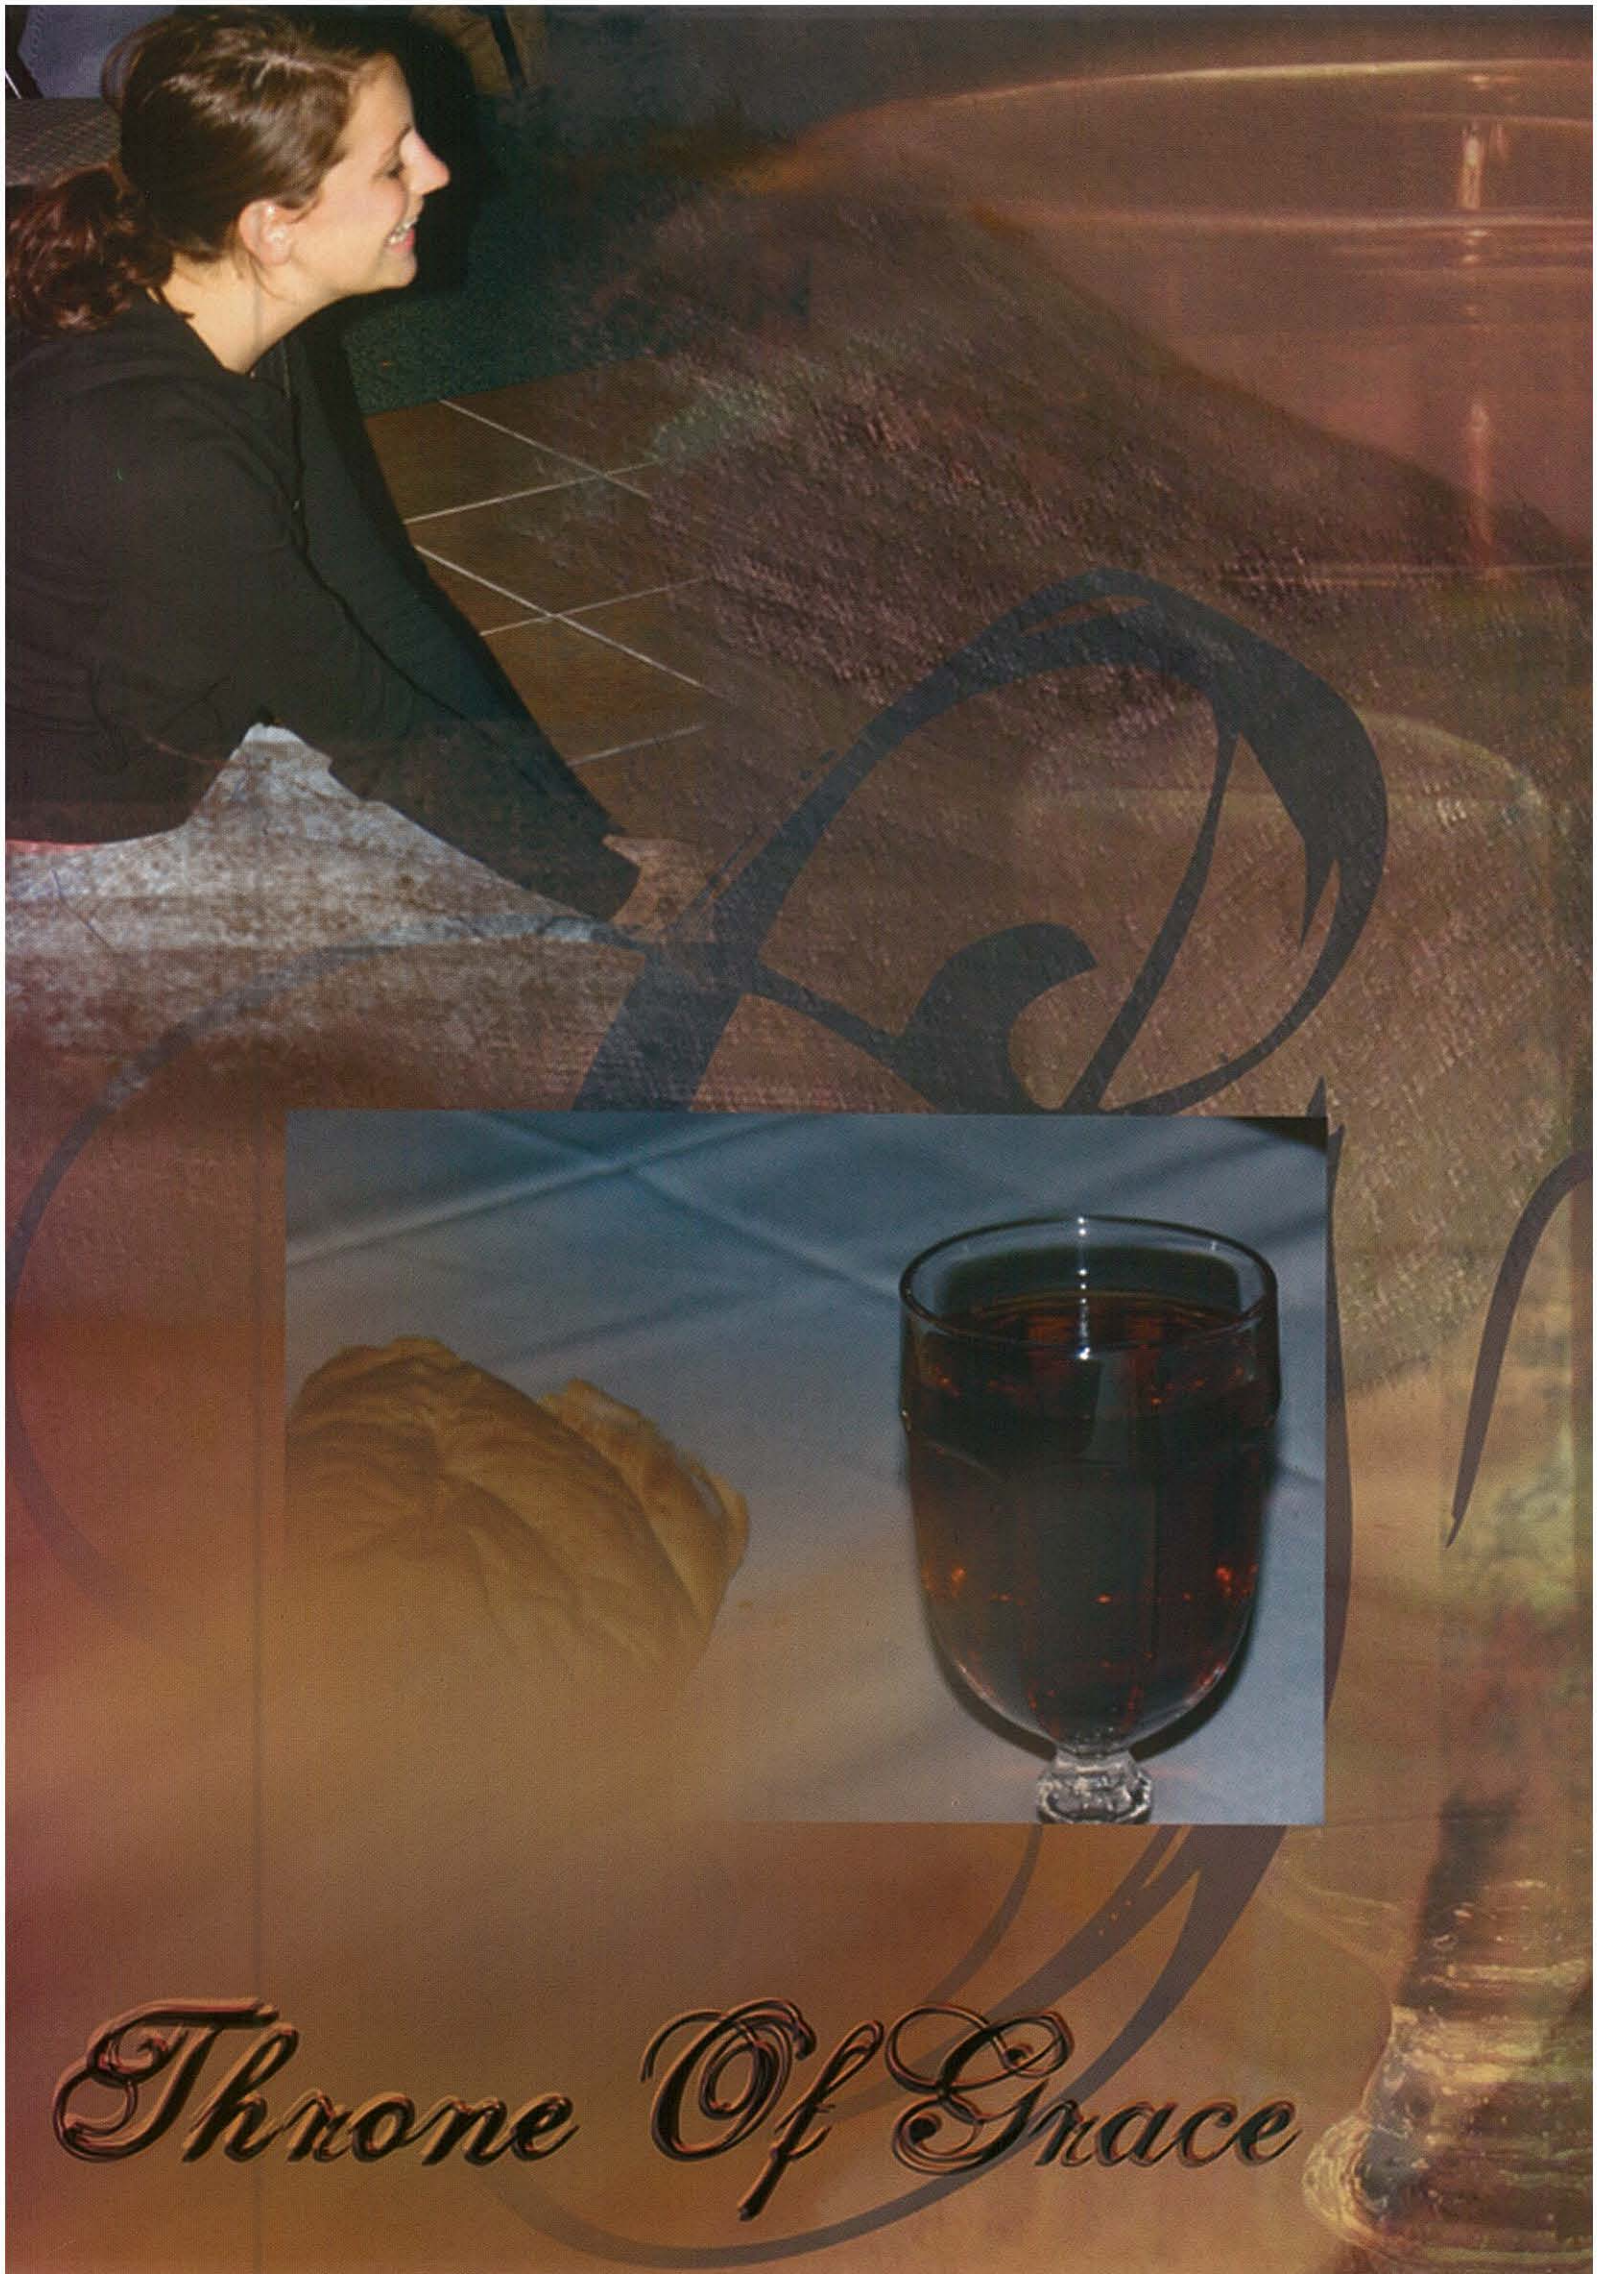

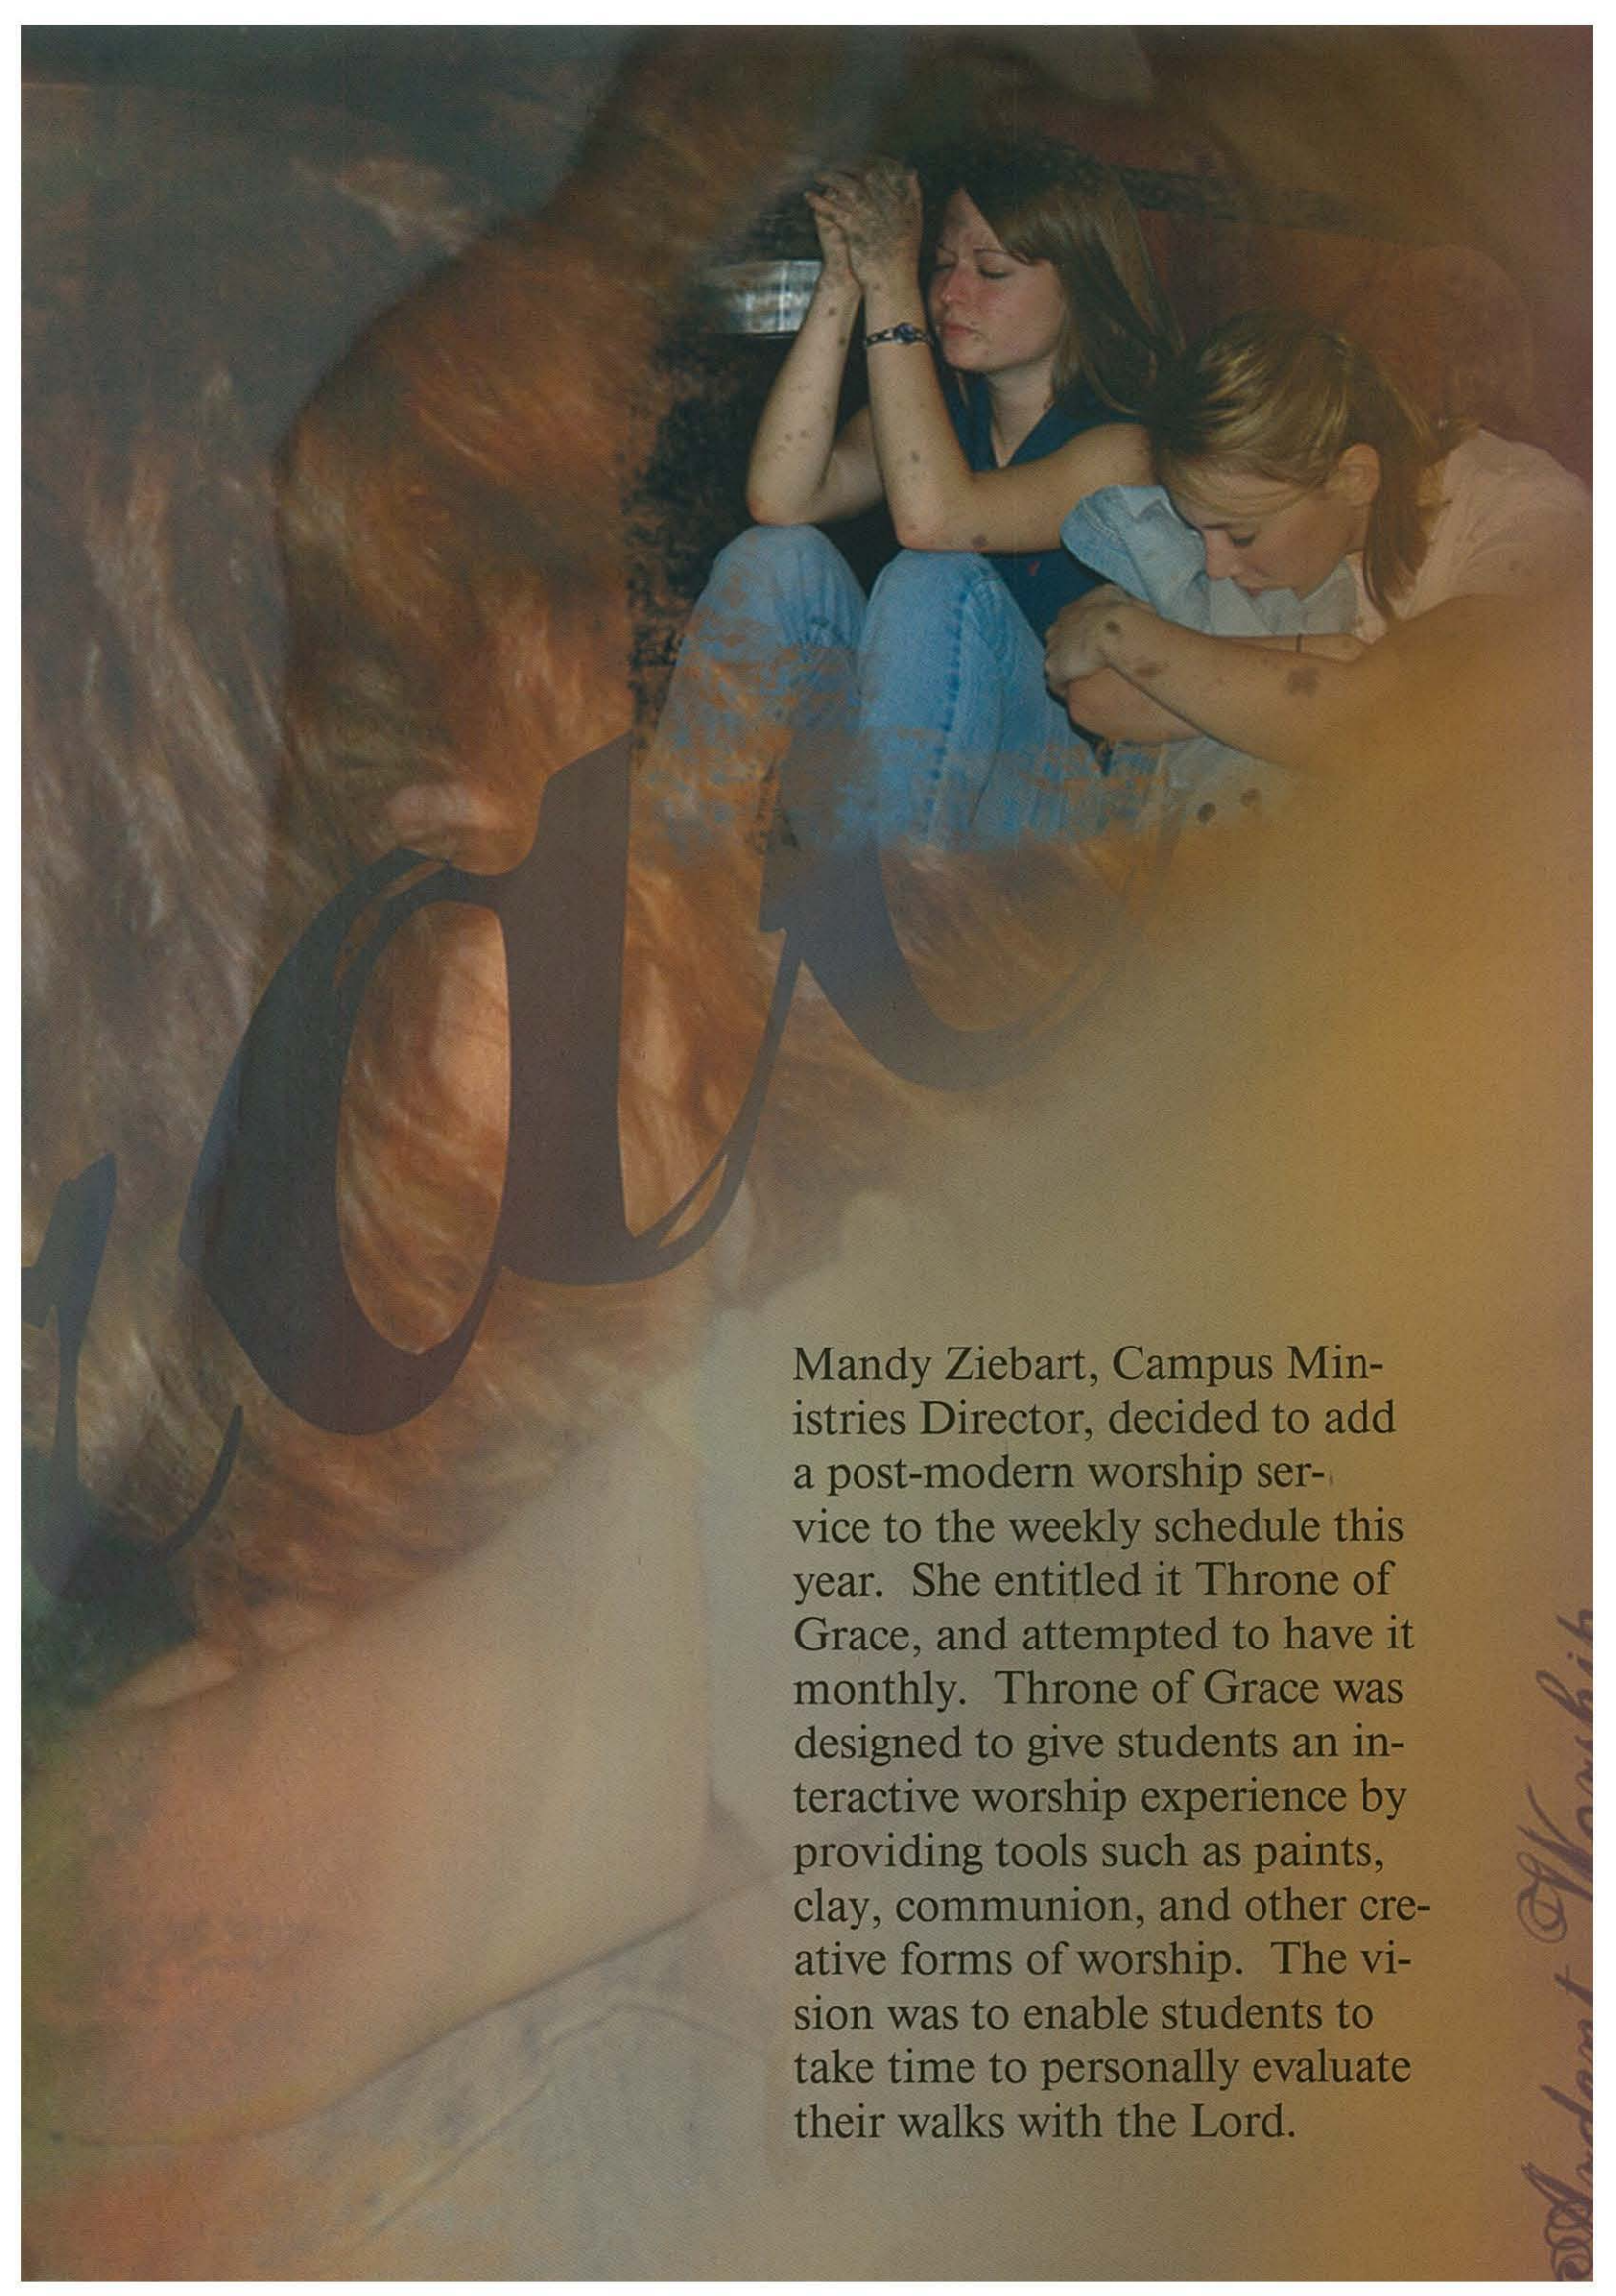

Pie In The Face

Throne Of Grace

Mandy Ziebart, Campus Ministries Director, decided to add a post-modern worship service to the weekly schedule this year. She entitled it Throne of Grace, and attempted to have it monthly. Throne of Grace was designed to give students an interactive worship experience by providing tools such as paints, clay, communion, and other creative forms of worship. The vision was to enable students to take time to personally evaluate their walks with the Lord.

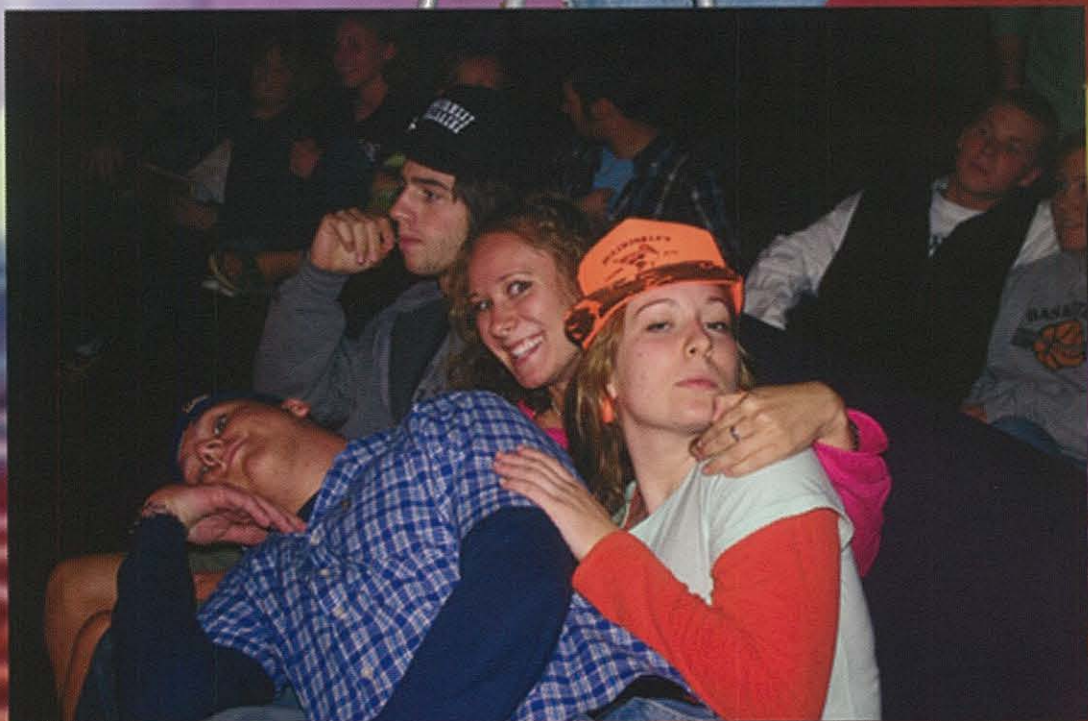

The Student Center Director, Camden Hughes, organizes sporadic mini-concerts held in the campus coffee shop, Amity Perk. Groups can be assembled by students or other acts from further away. Crowds steadily come out to see this musical entertainment. Coffee, conversation, and music make for a fantastic night!

The Career Fair is a gathering of businesses across the Treasure Valley open to students, faculty, and the community. Many students have found direction and even their post-collegiate occupations. Career week occurs for an entire week filled with various events, one of which is the Career Fair.

The background of the page features large, stylized, three-dimensional letters spelling out the word "BRICK" in a light blue color. The letters are set against a textured, brownish-orange background that resembles a brick wall. Overlaid on this background are five photographs of students. The top-left photo shows a man in a white shirt leaning over a pool table, holding a cue stick. The top-right photo shows a person in a blue shirt sitting at a table. The middle-left photo shows two women sitting at a table, one of whom is wearing a white sweatshirt with "BRISTOL" written on it. The middle-right photo shows two people sitting at a table, looking at something together. The bottom-left photo shows two women sitting at a table, one of whom is holding a cup. The bottom-right photo shows a person in a white shirt sitting at a table. The text is positioned in the upper right quadrant of the page, overlapping the "BRICK" letters and the top-right photo.

Top Ten Café is a weekly ritual for many students. At the Brick House, there are movies, games, and coffee for all to enjoy. The fellowship that occurs throughout the year's Brick House events is irreplaceable, and for many unforgettable. The Brick House guys, Ben Forrest, Adam Haynes, Tom Foisy, and Jake Vibbert, open their house up every week, every day as a ministry to the campus.

K HOUSE

Mike Martinez and Eddie Wheeler enjoy a rousing game of Ping Pong

After many great years, the home to many alumni came crashing to the ground this spring. The structure held fond memories of times on campus at NNU, but due to various complications, the building was taken down. While the use of this land will greatly aid the campus community, Morrison Hall will be greatly missed as well.

The Student Body Senate is constructed of three representatives from each class, and meets every Wednesday night to discuss the Student Body and its financial status. The student fees are divvied up and a portion of them are given to the Senate. This money is voted to use towards certain things for the Student Body. The Senate helped make many advances for the Student Body this passed year, and will continue working on various things for the upcoming year.

A Fold the neckerchief in half lengthwise. The fold should be about 1/2 inch wide.

B Place around neck of V-neck of official long-sleeved shirt. (The long-sleeved shirt may be turned up over the neckerchief.)

C Draw neckerchief slide over head to fit snugly. Wear ends loose as preferred.
